BLUE MOLD REPORTED ON VIRGINIA TOBACCO

Blue mold has been prevalent in Virginia tobacco beds this season reports S. B. Fenne, plant pathologist at Virginia Polytechnic Institute. He has received diseased specimens from both the burley and flue-cured areas.

Cool, wet weather has contributed to the high incidence of blue mold, Fenne says. The recent hot days have caused the mold to die and leave burned-out, yellow spots on the tobacco leaves.

Fenne advises growers to wait from five to 10 days until the plants have developed new, white roots. Then they are safe to transplant in the tobacco field. Do not put out such infected plants until the new roots are formed, or many will die.

The burnt lower leaves will fall off and be replaced by new leaves.

MRS. HOLLAND WINS AWARD

Mrs. Mary Grey Holland, Mathematics teacher at Appomattox High School, received the Valley Forge Classroom Teachers Medal from Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge for her outstanding work to create a better understanding of our American Way of Life.

The medal fashioned after a Dogwood blossom, symbolic of Valley Forge, was presented along with a citation scroll by Rev. R. A. Bergdoll at Final Assembly at Appomattox High School June 5, 1961.

Dr. Kenneth D. Wells, President of Freedoms Foundation, in announcing the awards said: "In a world of crisis and indecisions, teachers who are dedicated to clearly relating an understanding of the fundamentals of Freedom and who can inspire their students with a keen appreciation of our heritage as free men are a key factor in the preservation of our way of life.

"It is most appropriate that we recognize these teachers and school administrators whose strong, affirmative teaching and planning equips our young people for the responsibilities of freedom and leadership in a world besieged by athiestic Communism."

A distinguished jury, composed of State Supreme Court Jurists and elected representatives of national patriotic, service and veterans organizations, selected the award recipients from among the records of teachers from every corner of the country whose names had been submitted by citizens interested in continued high levels of citizenship education in American schools.

Nominations are invited from all Americans -- either for Teachers Medal consideration or in the foundation's general program which honors people in all walks of life for things they have written, said or done to improve knowledge and appreciation of our American Way of Life.

Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge is a non-profit, non-political, non- sectarian organization. General Dwight D. Eisenhower is Honorary Chairman. The Foundation's funds come from the widest national sources -- individuals, corporations and foundations.

Lawson Wins For Mayor; Robinson Tops Council

TOPS COUNCIL TICKET

. . Mrs. Calvin H. Robinson

NEW TOWN MAYOR

. . . Dr. S. R. Lawson

A record turn-out of voters on Tuesday gave a vote of confidence to incumbent town officers. There was the largest number of votes ever cast here in a town election.

Incumbent councilman, Dr. S. R. Lawson won in his bid for the office of Mayor. Dr. Lawson received a 71 vote plurality over former councilman, Grover R. Smith. The tally was 282 to 209.

Incumbent Mayor C. T. Moses, Jr., was not a candidate for re-election.

For the Town Council, there were eight candidates for the six places. The winners were:

Mrs. Calvin Robinson, 418
Henry B. Pack, 392
Ivey Holland, 390
C. L. McDearmon, 333
T. Randolph Gilbert, 312
J. T. Almond, 295.

Trailing in the Council balloting were: E. LeRoy Smith, with 276, and John R. Garrette with 253.

The percentage of voters as to those eligible, was the highest in recorded elections here.

Dr. Lawson will assume the office of Mayor in September, for a two year term. Town elections are held each two years. An incumbent councilman, Dr. Lawson will carry his experience in town affairs to the office of Mayor, and he will be supported by a Council with which he has worked. Only new member of the Council will be C. L. McDearmon, a former Councilman. Therefore, there will be an administration by experienced town officials.

The town election attracted wide attention. Although defeated for Mayor, Mr. Smith made a commendable showing, and had a following of supporters in the contest. All candidates for Council also had a creditable showing in the balloting, indicating that Appomattox is fortunate in having civic - minded citizens and capable persons available for community service. There were congratulations to the winners, but also sincere congratulations to all who had the civic interest to enter into the contest.

Dr. Lawson goes into the office of Mayor with a background of fine civic service, and his many friends have every confidence that he will make an outstanding town leader.
